In regulation 13 strike out section 4 and substitute therefor the following:

"Sec. 4. For an appeal or review of the classification and/or comparison of any cotton, the applicant shall pay a fee of 30 cents per bale if such appeal or review be handled by the board which classified the cotton in the first instance, or if the chief of the bureau has directed that such appeal or review be handled by another board. For an appeal or the review of the classification of any cotton by the appeal board of review examiners where the applicant designates the appeal board of review examiners as the board to which he wishes the appeal or review referred, the fee shall be 35 cents per bale, which shall cover the appeal or review and the expense incident to forwarding the samples to and returning them from Washington, D. C."

In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the official seal of the Department of Agriculture to be affixed in the City of Washington this 7th day of December, 1928.
